REFOG Keylogger is a free and powerful keylogger, which records the keystrokes of you or your child's computer. This application captures even screen shots of what you or your child is doing. REFOG Keylogger saves all of these recordings in a database. The information that is gathered can be seen and analyzed later on. REFOG Keylogger can log the keystrokes of you or your child's computer without giving a trace of its activity. REFOG Keylogger saves all of the information from the clipboard, the internet browser and the desktop into the database. This information can be viewed later on. This is done by simply entering a computer name or IP address into the program. REFOG Keylogger has all the necessary features to prevent being discovered. It is highly unlikely that your neighbor, a close friend or another person would find out about your keylogger's activity. So you don't have to worry about that. You will be able to log as much information as you would like to without using more than one computer at a time. It is also possible to record other activity from your computer such as the webcam, audio, file browsing, and browsing through the registry. It can also be used to record your keystrokes. REFOG Keylogger, a new application from ReFog Software, brings many new features into the logging software market. REFOG Keylogger is designed to be very easy to use and it requires no technical knowledge or training. The application is not a spyware, it does not send any information to anyone. When you open REFOG Keylogger for the first time you will be able to choose whether or not you want to log keystrokes. If you choose to not log keystrokes then it will not start logging keystrokes. If you want to start logging keystrokes immediately REFOG Keylogger will start logging keystrokes. It is also possible to stop logging keystrokes at any time. REFOG Keylogger can start up in the background so it will not obstruct your use of your computer. You will be able to use your computer as usual when REFOG Keylogger is running. This way it will not bother your computer's performance. REFOG Keylogger can also be used on your child's computer 82157476af
